

Directions to Maine Agricultural Employers Who Use Migrant Workers

The Maine Department of Labor is pleased to present this listing of the Maine agricultural employers who hire Migrant and Seasonal Farmworkers (MSFWs). A migrant farm worker travels from location to location where agricultural work is available and does not return to his/her permanent resident at the end of the day, residing temporarily at or near the job site. A seasonal worker, like the migrant, is employed on a temporary or seasonal basis, but returns to his/her permanent residence each day.

For any further information relating to the guide and its contents please call the Department of Labor's Division of Migrant and Immigrant Services at (207) 772-7619, TTY: (207) 822-0412, E-mail: juan.perez-febles@state.me.us
